

Ukraine's EU, US allies meet in Paris on security guarantees

PARIS – Key European allies of Ukraine and top US envoys meet in Paris yesterday in their latest bid to agree security guarantees for any ceasefire in Russia's war against its neighbour. The summit of the so-called "Coalition of the Willing" comes despite no ease up in fighting, almost four years into Europe's deadliest conflict since World War II.

The capture by US forces of Venezuelan president Nicolas Maduro, an ally of Russian leader Vladimir Putin, has unsettled some European countries and added a potential new element of transatlantic tension. Some members of the coalition aim to send a multinational force to Ukraine to deter any future Russian attack if the war sparked by Russia's February 2022 invasion ends.

But no ceasefire deal has been reached as both sides remain at odds over territory in a post-war settlement, with Kyiv insisting Russia must withdraw from all of the Ukrainian territory it currently occupies. Russia has repeatedly opposed any NATO boots on the ground in Ukraine to monitor a halt in hostilities. Representatives of 35 countries, including 27 heads of state, will gather in Paris.

The French presidency said the meeting aims to show the "alignment" between Washington, Kyiv and European allies on security guarantees for Ukraine. Zelensky arrived in Paris ahead of the start of the talks on Tuesday afternoon, his office said. US president Donald Trump's special envoy Steve Witkoff and son-in-law Jared Kushner will attend the meeting of the coalition, launched last year by France and Britain.

French president Emmanuel Macron spoke to Canadian prime minister Mark Carney over breakfast at the Elysee presidential palace, ahead of a planned lunch with Zelensky and the US envoys. UK prime minister Keir Starmer, German chancellor Friedrich Merz and Italy's prime minister Giorgia Meloni are also going to attend, according to diplomatic sources.

European leaders have been at pains to not firmly condemn the US operation to grab Maduro at the weekend in the run-up to the Paris meeting, while expressing discomfort at the implications for international law. Before leaving for Paris, Polish prime minister Donald Tusk said the aim of the meeting was to "tighten and align the European and American positions." He said it was because "only that kind of pressure has a chance of forcing the Russians to take the issue of ceasefire, and then peace, seriously." He warned against expecting final decisions to be made in Paris.

Thailand accuses Cambodia of violating truce

BANGKOK – Thailand accused Cambodia of violating a 10-day-old truce yesterday, saying cross-border mortar fire wounded a soldier, while Phnom Penh said a "pile of garbage" exploded, injuring two of its own troops. Bangkok's foreign ministry said Thai forces "did not retaliate," opting instead to contact the Cambodian side to verify what happened, adding that Phnom Penh "claimed it was an accident." The Thai ministry also urged Cambodia to "prevent such incidents from recurring" and issue an apology, according to a statement. A decades-old border dispute between the Southeast Asian nations erupted into military clashes several times last year, with fighting in December killing dozens of people and displacing around one million on both sides. The two countries agreed to a fragile truce on 27 December, ending three weeks of clashes.

Cambodia "violated the ceasefire" on Tuesday morning, the Thai army said in a statement, accusing Cambodian forces of firing mortar rounds into Thailand's Ubon Ratchathani province. One Thai soldier was hospitalised due to non-life-threatening shrapnel wounds to his right arm, the ministry said. The Thai army said in a separate statement that the Cambodian side had contacted a Thai military unit and claimed "there was no intention to fire into Thai territory." "The incident was caused by an operational error by Cambodian personnel," the statement added.

Thailand's military also said it warned Cambodian forces that if a similar incident occurred, Thai forces may need to retaliate. Cambodia's defence ministry spokeswoman Maly Socheata said two Cambodian soldiers were injured, one severely, on Tuesday morning when "an explosion occurred from a pile of garbage." The incident happened while Cambodian forces were performing "organisation and orderliness" duties in Cambodia's Preah Vihear province, which sits opposite Thailand's Ubon Ratchathani, she said in a statement. The two injured soldiers were hospitalised. Maly Socheata did not mention the strike alleged by Thailand, but said both nations' border coordination teams had consulted on the incident involving the Cambodian soldiers and addressed the matter. The explosion occurred in a frontier region known as the Emerald Triangle, where the borders of both countries and Laos meet, she said. In May, a Cambodian soldier was killed in a firefight with Thai troops in the area, reigniting the border conflict.

"An accident" Thailand's prime minister Anutin Charnvirakul said his government had lodged a protest with Phnom Penh, stating "the truce was violated." "At the military-to-military level, we have been told the incident was an accident, but we are seeking clarification on how responsibility will be taken," Anutin told reporters in Bangkok. He added that Thailand had the "capability to respond" to Cambodia, which is vastly outgunned by its neighbour.
