As Israel struck Qatar, South Africans saw echo of last decade of apartheid

In the 70s and 80s, South Africa bombed or raided Zambia, Angola, Namibia, Zimbabwe, Botswana, Mozambique. Israel has attacked eight nations this year.

By Gershwin Wanneburg

Gonda Perez remembers the day South Africa's apartheid regime bombed a refugee camp in the Zambian capital, Lusaka, during an air raid.

It was in the mid-1980s. Perez was working as a dentist at a local hospital at the time and saw about 10 victims brought in on trucks serving as makeshift ambulances. One of the victims is etched in her memory.

"I stood in casualty and I watched people come in with wounds, horrible wounds," said Perez, now 69. "One man that I remember had blood spurting ... so obviously it hit an artery or something out of his back... There was blood all over the show and it was really horrible to look at."

That day, Perez said, the South African Defence Force (SADF) had meant to strike members of Umkhonto we Sizwe (MK), the military wing of the African National Congress (ANC), which led the struggle to end racist white minority rule in South Africa in 1994. But they hit civilians instead.

Perez, who was an ANC member living in exile after fleeing South Africa in the 1970s due to her political activities, witnessed several SADF bombings and raids across regional countries at the time. She says the Lusaka raid was one of many such "mistakes" committed by the apartheid army due to faulty intelligence. For her – and many observers posting on social media – those bombings also have shades of the Israeli military's attack on Qatar last week, which aimed to hit the leadership of Palestinian group Hamas, among them senior leaders Khalil al-Hayya and Khaled Meshal. Instead, it killed al-Hayya's son, Humam, as well as an aide, three bodyguards, and a Qatari security officer. In a residential suburb in Doha that is also home to embassies, schools and supermarkets.

The attack came at a time when Qatari officials, who are central mediators in talks between Israel and Hamas, had been trying to broker a ceasefire in Gaza, where Israel has killed more than 65,000 people since launching its war on the Palestinian enclave two years ago. A United Nations inquiry and leading scholars have declared the killings in Gaza a genocide. Israel's occupation of the West Bank has also become increasingly violent, and it has launched attacks on neighbouring countries, citing various threats. Over a 72-hour period this month, Israel struck Palestine, Yemen, Syria, Lebanon, Tunisia and Qatar.

This military escalation is reminiscent of the brutal assaults the apartheid regime launched on its neighbours in the decade or so before its demise, analysts note, as it attacked countries including Zambia, Angola, Namibia, Zimbabwe, Botswana and Mozambique. Like Israel today, apartheid South Africa justified its incursions as necessary to fight its "terrorist" enemies, a claim which helped both countries win support from the United States. "Similar to Israel's recent actions, South Africa's military action abroad relied on targeted attacks against ANC leadership and safehouses, as well as other activists," said Sonja Theron, a lecturer in security studies at the University of Pretoria. Apartheid assassinations included shootings and bombings, with civilians often caught in the crossfire.

"The disregard for international law, particularly sovereignty, is also similar," Theron noted. Over the last two years, Israel has struck and killed Hamas members in Iran and Lebanon, while its military also bombs sites associated with Hezbollah and Yemen's Houthis, groups it says it targets for their support of Hamas. Civilians have also been killed in these attacks.

Similarly, apartheid South Africa's cross-border attacks aimed to neutralise the MK and other regional liberation organisations which were granted refuge and support by the "front-line states", a loose coalition of African countries committed to ending apartheid and white minority rule.

An 'intimate' connection

Observers note that the parallels between Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's government in Israel and the apartheid regime are far from coincidental.

Apartheid was officially instituted in South Africa in 1948, the same year the state of Israel was born.

Both nations used religious justification to promote an ethnonationalist ideology, and both defined themselves by their struggle against a similar enemy, with the apartheid National Party and the Zionist state each vying to position themselves as an oasis of Western civilisation surrounded by hostile native peoples, researchers say. Aljazeera.com

No More Exclusive Arrangements in Telecommunication Infrastructure

Nghinomenwa-valli Hangala

The Communications Regulatory Authority of Namibia (CRAN) has stated that the high court ruling on the exclusive infrastructural use arrangement between the two telecommunication giants and NamPower has cemented its stance on telecommunications infrastructure inclusivity.

This was stated by the telecommunication sector regulator this week.

On 31 July 2025, the High Court delivered its judgement regarding the tripartite lease agreement of June 2012 between MTC, Telecom Namibia, and NamPower. The Court ruled that clause 3.2 of the agreement between the 3 parties, the automatic renewal clause, was invalid under Regulation 17(2)(b) of the Infrastructure Sharing Regulations.

CRAN commended the ruling for confirming the legal termination of the agreement on 31 May 2022 when its 10-year term expired.

"This judgement provides clarity on the application of Namibia's Infrastructure Sharing Regulations. It affirms that exclusive agreements for access to essential facilities such as fibre networks are not permissible," CRAN wrote in a statement.

Photo: Contributed

CRAN chief executive Emilia Nghikembua explained that the exclusive arrangement by the 3 entities undermines competition and prevents other licenced operators from gaining fair access to critical infrastructure, contrary to the principles of fairness, non-discrimination, and open access.

In 2022, CRAN received a complaint from MTN Business challenging the legality of the agreement. CRAN intervened by declaring the exclusivity and automatic renewal provisions void, refusing to recognise the continuation of the agreement beyond its initial term.

According to CRAN, the agreement entrenched dominance and undermined consumer welfare by restricting competition, delaying infrastructure rollout, and limiting affordable access.

MTC and Telecom Namibia challenged CRAN's decision before the High Court, alleging procedural unfairness and disputing the validity of Regulation 17(2)(b).

CRAN filed a counter-application, seeking confirmation that the automatic renewal clause was void and that the agreement had legally ended on 31 May 2022.

The regulatory authority explains that it acted to uphold the integrity of Namibia's regulatory framework, safeguard consumer interests, and promote fair competition by ensuring that access to fibre infrastructure is governed by openness and non-discrimination. CRAN added that the latest judgement strengthens Namibia's digital ecosystem and supports the country's national digital transformation and economic development goals.

At the same time, the regulatory body noted that the ruling also reinforces CRAN's mandate to promote competition, ensure equitable access, and advance the growth of a dynamic and inclusive digital economy.

"The ruling ensures that operators seeking access to infrastructure are accommodated on equitable terms. This will stimulate investment, accelerate the deployment of broadband and next-generation technologies, and expand coverage into underserved areas.

Consumers will benefit directly from greater choice, improved service quality, and more affordable connectivity," Nghikembua stated.

In 2012, NamPower, MTC, and Telecom Namibia entered a tripartite agreement for the lease of NamPower's dark fibre for telecommunication services.

This agreement granted MTC and Telecom exclusive access to NamPower's fibre and included an automatic renewal clause that perpetually extended the agreement.
